

AMERICOAT[®] Silicone Glaze Coating

AMERICOAT[®] silicone release coating is the industry's leading silicone coating technology used on all American Pan glazed pans. AMERICOAT is a clear glaze that reduces the need for secondary release agents such as oil, silicone, or paper by up to 50% and offers long-lasting performance with approximately 300 to 600 releases* achieved before recoating is required.

The Quality of AMERICOAT

- Consistency: Our state-of-the-art robotics system ensures absolute coating consistency.
- Food Contact Safe: AMERICOAT is a silicon-based, non-stick, and non-toxic coating that is responsibly manufactured and derived from naturally occurring minerals. AMERICOAT complies with all relevant FDA, EU, and other known regulations for food contact.

The Benefits of AMERICOAT

- Improved Product Quality: AMERICOAT ensures product consistency through improved dough flow and release.
- Increased Yield: Products baked on AMERICOAT coated pans release easily, which significantly reduces waste and damaged product.
- Enhanced Sustainability: Limit environmental impact by reducing scrap levels, reducing consumption of oils and prolonging the life of your pans.

The Value of AMERICOAT

- Cost Effective: Reduce or eliminate secondary release agents such as oil, silicone mats, and paper while being able to refurbish pans multiple times.
- Improved Sanitation: Create a safer environment with reduced fire hazards due to elimination of oils and grease.
